KILLINGLY HIGH SCHOOL

DANIELSON, CONN.

Foreword

Four years is a long, time. Such were our thoughts when we first entered the doors of K. H. S. that September morning in 1944.

Yet, as we look back, those years have flown too swiftly by and the time for parting has arrived all too soon.

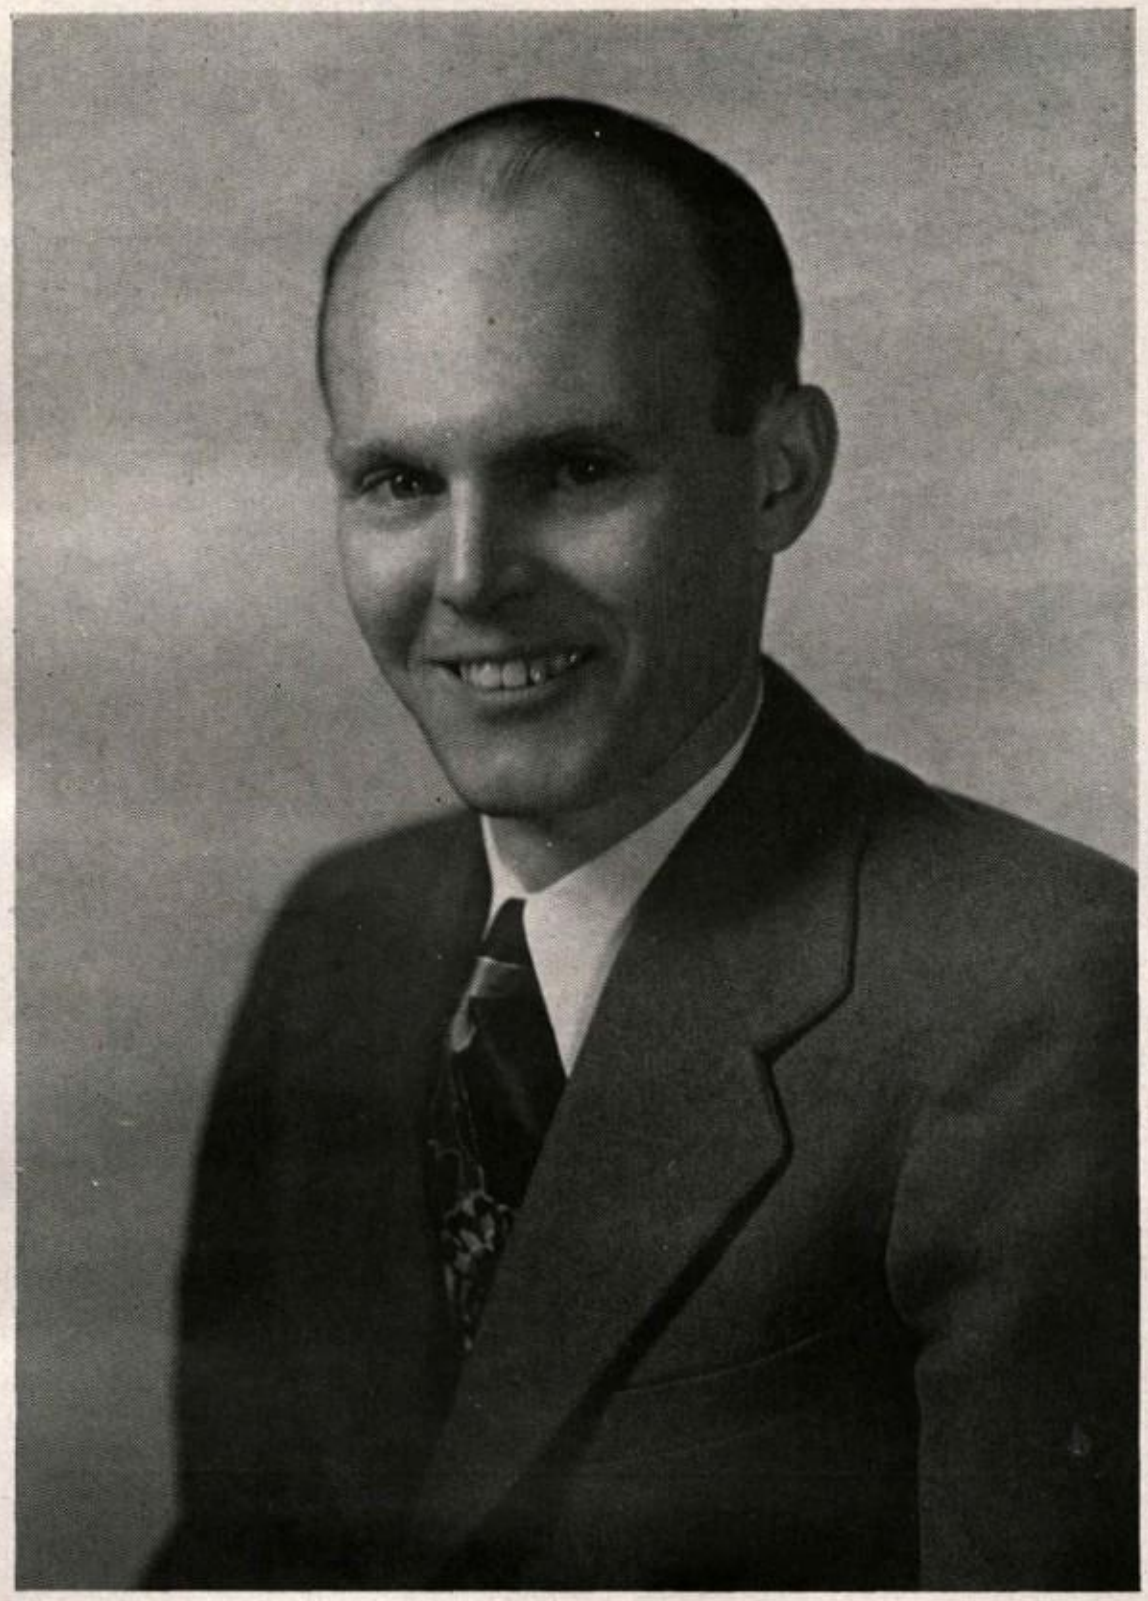
As the increasing years separate us from our days here at K. H. S., always in our memories will there remain vivid snapshots of every trivial detail, every momentous matter. . .our first day of classes; the ever-vigilant traffic squad; our rush to the "caf" at 12:05; dancing in the gym to some of those hit songs: "How Soon", "Now is the Hour", "Ballerina", and of course the perennial "Stardust". Remember the excitement of the Killingly-Putnam game, the dances, the all-important junior prom; all little things in themselves but adding up to the total of happiness in every sense of the word.

Remember our class room debates on the U. N. Council, the joy and pride that each of us felt on that day in 1945 when the Japs said "Uncle" and peace shone on us. Other outside events interested us also, like the major league series in "47" when the Cardinals walked away with the pennant, much to the disgust of local Red Sox fans.

Now it's all over as far as life at K. H. S. is concerned. In this one book, therefore, we have tried to capture many souvenirs, in words and pictures, that will bring back all the different feelings of our high school career: the joys and sorrows which combined to make it high school life.

Years from now we will find in these pages memory-making reminders of classmates, teachers, and friends who have joined together to make these days at K. H. S. some of the happiest in our lives.

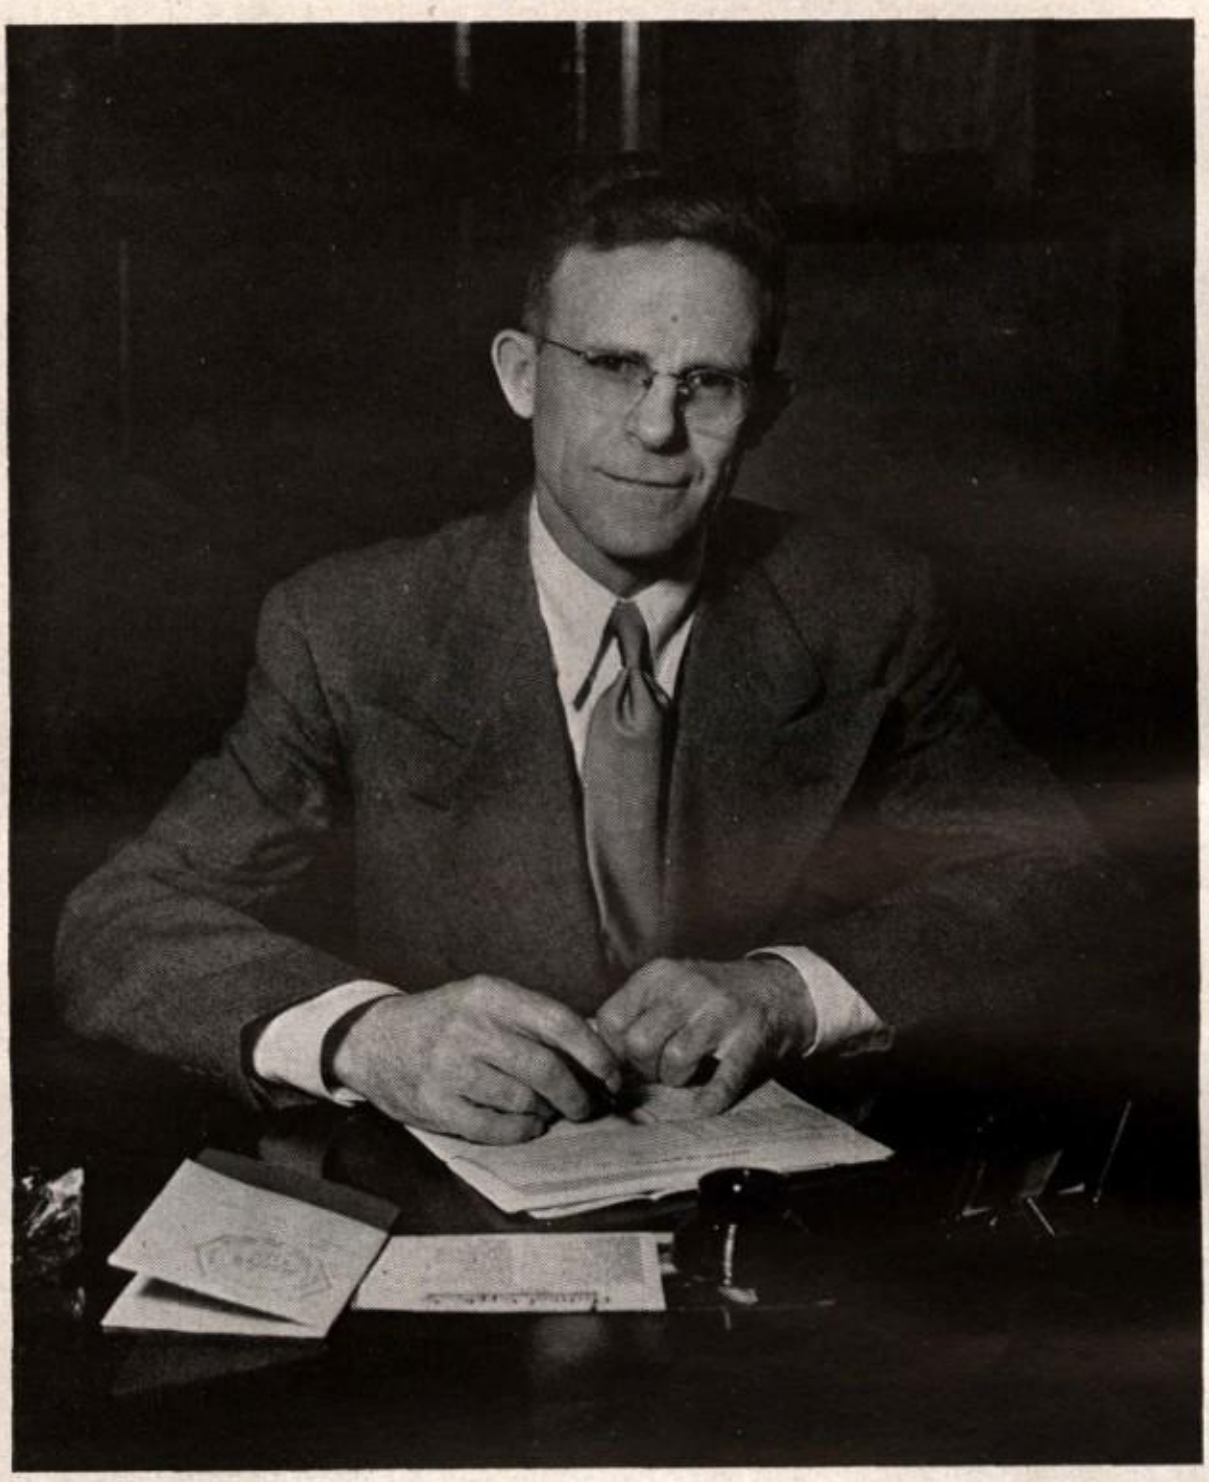
Dedication



MR. HERBERT J. BRINE

Remembering every joke that turned a dull day into a bright one, every exhortation that kept us in line, all the willing effort that he put into making our plans work, we dedicate this, our yearbook, to Mr. Herbert J. Brine, with that small, simple, but most heartfelt word—THANKS!

A Tribute



SUPERINTENDENT R. VERNON HAYS

Guide, philosopher, friend, teacher, kindly advisor, and efficient administrator — not just one word but many are needed to explain what Mr. Hays has been to us during these four years at Killingly High. Our loyalty and respect go out to this man who has worked so hard for the betterment of our schools and our town.

In Appreciation

PRINCIPAL ROBERT D. PAYNE

Through our four years here at Killingly it has been one of our great privileges to have Mr. Payne, not only as Principal, but as a teacher in the fullest sense—one who listens wisely and advises well.

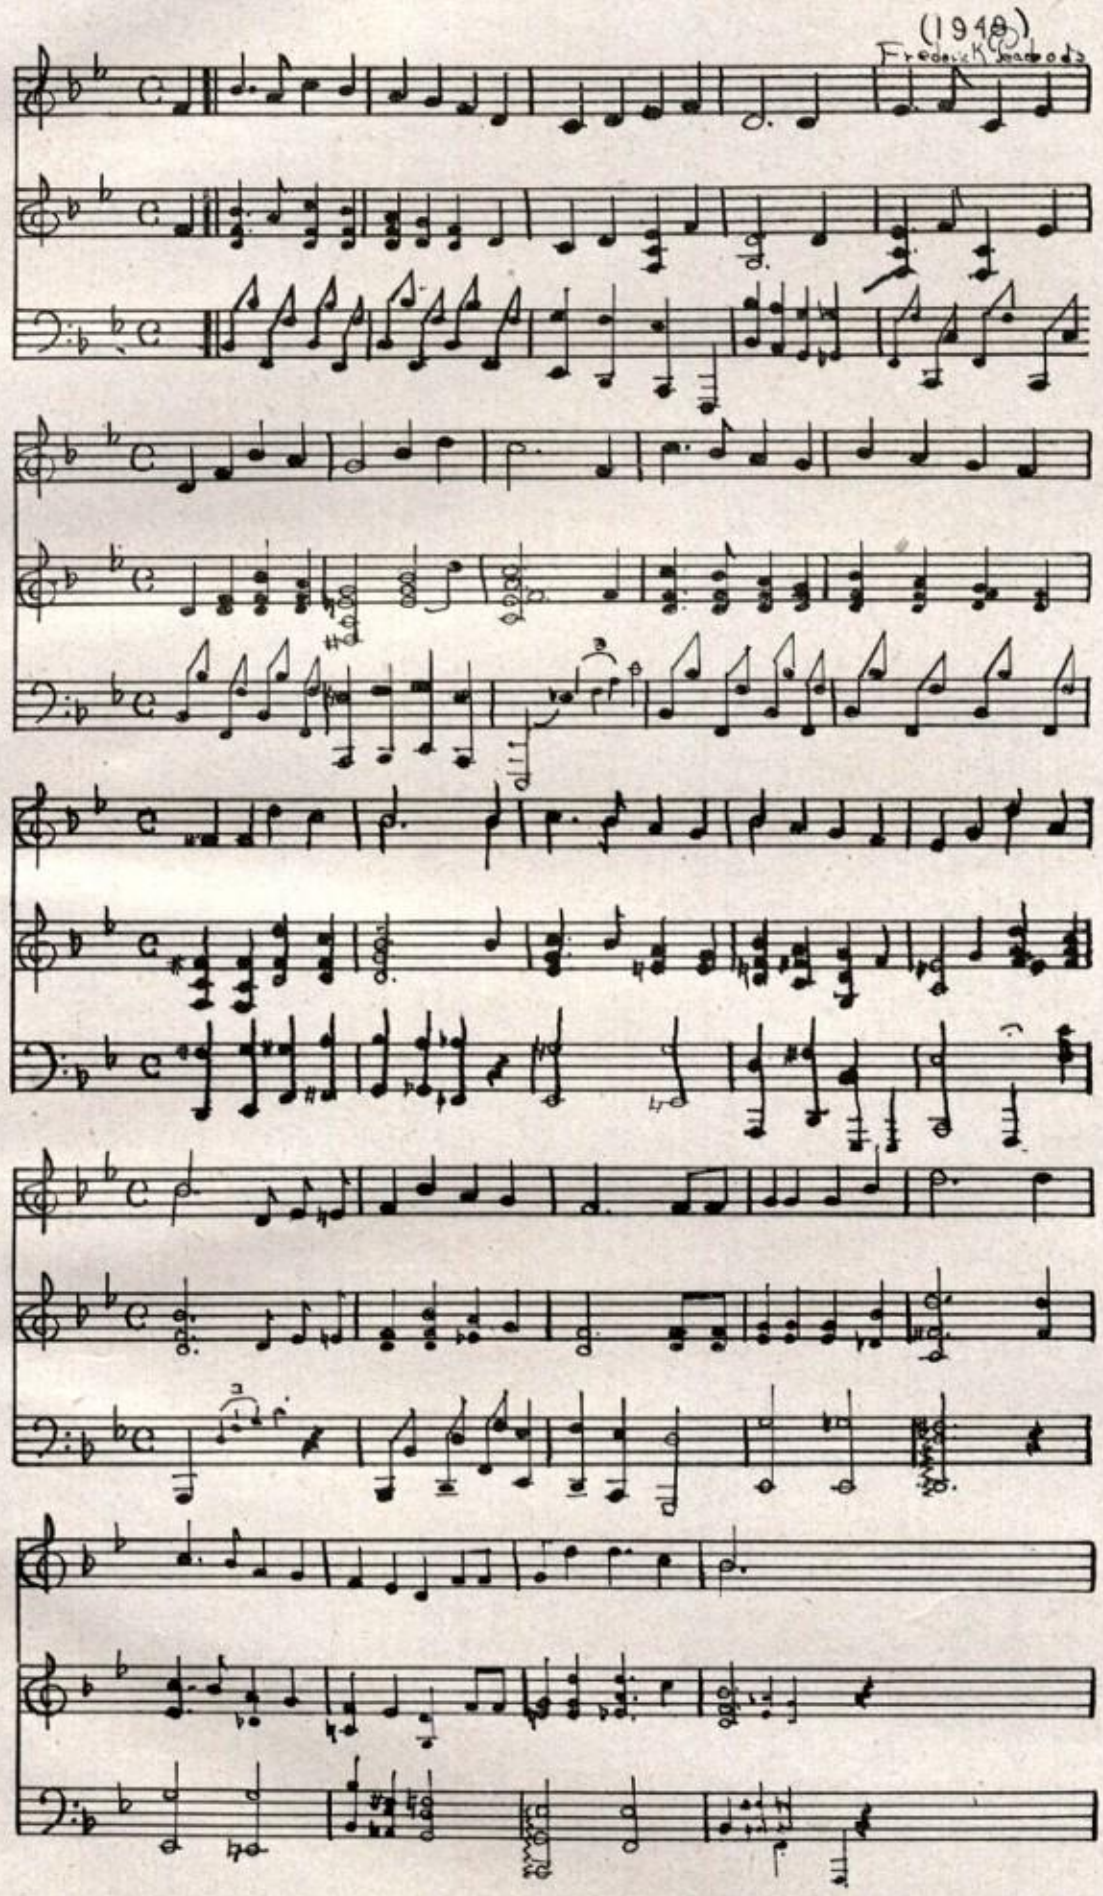
Class Ode



We meekly entered through the doors
With high ambitions all,
Yet well we knew we'd all not reach
The staff of Fame's Hall.
We're proud to say that now at last
We have reached our goal,
The days we've spent here in content
Forever we will hold.

Chorus

To you, Old High, our voices raise
As applaudingly we see
You've trained us well, and now farewell,
Alma Mater, Killingly.

We must go forth, new friends attain,
Join in life's surging crowd,
Remembering we still must strive
We, whom you have sowed.
To you dear teachers, friends and all,
Who have brightened up our stay,
We sing these words with heads held high
As we now go on our way.

The years have flown since first we saw
Those front doors open wide.
The time has come, a job's well done;
We now go forth with pride.
We'll ne'er forget the joy we've shared
The work and striving too.
Yes, years have flown and now's the time
For us to bid adieu.

CLASS HISTORY

September 5, 1944

Dear Diary,

What a day! First day as being a freshman at Killingly High. What a big school compared to grammar school.

It's quite different too. Been changing rooms and teachers all day—what a workout! Don't know any of the tea hers by name—but boy—they gave us homework for tomorrow already.

It's fun though. You shouldn't get tired of the teacher because you only see him for forty minutes instead of all day as it was in grammar school.

There are three freshman rooms. Largest class of freshmen Killingly has had for a long time—so Mr. Hays said at assembly this morning.

Are assemblies fun! We never had them in grammar school. Something tells me that high school's going to be really super.

November 22, 1944

Dear Diary,

The class is all buzzing about the new officers. Seeing that it was our first election, everyone had a great deal to say about all the nominations. It took all of activities period, and everyone had to hurry with their homework so that they would have it in on time.

Those elected to lead the class were Bob Vett, President; Choo-Choo Trahan, Vice-President; Theresa Phaneuf, Secretary; Joe Weaver, Treasurer; and Alan Mosher, Historian.

January 19, 1945

Dear Diary,

Just came home from our "Freshmen Jamboree." It was a great success, and now Flukey can smile when he reads our treasury report.

The gym was cleverly decorated with musical notes and instruments making a gay and colorful setting for the dance.

Everyone had a grand time and is looking forward to the next dance.

September 4, 1945

Dear Diary,

Politics! Got a new line-up for class officers this year. Fred Dziki was given the honor of pulling us through our sophomore year, and tiny Terry Milliard was elected Vice-President, while Choo-Choo Trahan, Secretary, was elected to jot down the double-talk of our class. Money-mad Weaver was elected again as Treasurer, while Alan Mosher invested in a new pen to fill our log book with the goings on of the class.

November 2, 1945

Dear Diary,

Oh, what a super evening! This special occasion, "Harvest Holiday" with its harvest theme—cornstalks and pumpkins—was something to marvel at.

The fellows finally broke down and actually asked the girls to dance. Every one had a bang-up time and surely hated to see 12 o'clock swing around. Dances are more fun everytime.

May 24, 1946

Dear Diary,

Everyone's excited over the election of new cheerleaders. Many girls went out for it and really put all they had into it.

The lucky girls chosen from our class were Agnes Mathieu, Trudie Pester, and Millie Zagraniczny.

With these girls on the cheerleading squad, we are sure to have a good cheering section which will certainly lead our boys to victory.

September 6, 1946

Dear Diary,

Politics again! A new slate of officers for our junior year included Fred Dziki as President, and Terry Milliard as Vice-President. Joan Perreault was elected to write down the minutes of our meetings as Secretary while Flukey Weaver was elected for the third time to be Treasurer, and Franny Nap was elected to continue filling the log book as Historian.

October 18, 1946

Dear Diary,

Tonight we held our Junior Informal, "Autumn Night", and it was one of the most enjoyable events of the year.

The gym was decorated with streamers of autumn colors and leaves adorned the walls. A popular rendezvous for the dancers was a novel white birch love seat under a harvest moon in a corner of the gym. Many couples were seen eyeing the seat, but on second thought, decided that it probably wasn't strong enough for two.

March 12, 1947

Dear Diary,

Five members of our class were elected to the National Honor Society. The faculty chose Pat Bertorelli, Dena Boiselle, Fay Demoranville, Lois Gagnon and Fred Peabody.

The ceremony was very impressive, and the society has done much to promote the scholastic standing of the school.

April 18, 1947

Dear Diary,

"June Mad." Sounds exciting, huh? Well, it is. That happens to be the title of our gala presentation known to all as the Junior Play. Mr. Herbert J. Brine, who ably undertook the direction of the play, was fully rewarded by the superb performances of Fred Wood, Trudie Pester, Fay Demoranville, Phil Bard, Fred Dziki, Choo-Choo Trahan, Joan Perreault, Jimmie Kent, Franny Stevens, Robert Ross, Margie Hill, Maurice Dupont and Dena Boiselle.

There was a slight pause during the last act when Fred Wood forgot to whistle and come on stage, and poor Trudie adlibbed desperately on the telephone while Fred was being looked for. (Wonder what Fred was doing backstage to make him forget about that scene?)

May 16, 1947

Dear Diary,

We transformed the gym to a colorful flower garden and held our Junior Prom tonight. Flower-covered trellises and a rock garden illustrated the general theme. A white picket fence was placed around the orchestra while the chaperones were seated under an arbor.

The highlight of the evening was when Terry Milliard was crowned queen by the One and Only, Fred Dziki, our president. A huge flower in the center of the floor was a throne for the queen. Popular Joan Perreault and vivacious Trudie Pester were her attendants.

September 3, 1947

Dear Diary,

Seniors! Room 14! Sounds different, but wonderful. We've finally made it. And lucky for us that we're a small class so that we can have the traditional Room 14 as homeroom.

Mr. Herbert J. Brine is our homeroom teacher again. He doesn't know what he's in for when he becomes class advisor for us seniors! He'll find out soon enough. He's one in a million. He's not letting us put anything over him, though; he's arranging our seats in boy, then girl, order, to prevent any best friends from being together. So glad he's our advisor—we're sure to make this year a memorable one!

September 8, 1947

Dear Diary,

Held our last election for class officers in our homeroom today. It was really a waste of time because everyone got re-elected. Fred Dziki was elected to guide our class through our last year and give the Welcome Address at Graduation Day. (He's going to love that.) Terry Milliard was elected Vice President once again and got ready to take Fred's place in case he decided to play hookey. Joan Perreault invested in another notebook and started to take down all our disagreements in the minutes as Secretary. Flukey Weaver, for the fourth time, was elected to handle the financial part of the class while Franny Nap was elected to start writing down the past events of our class and put them together in the Yearbook. Poor kid, she has a big job ahead of her. I can just see her at Graduation Day——!!

November 20 and 21, 1947

Dear Diary,

"Dear Ruth", our Senior Play, is again under the able direction of Mr. Brine, but this year there were two casts which included Pat Bertorelli, Alyce Cooke, Fay Demoranville, Margaret Wilson. Norman Gileau, Joan Perreault, Terry Milliard, Trudie Pester, Margie Hill, Ken Poirier, Franny Stevens, Dena Boiselle, Bertha Kamuda, Jimmie Kent and Maurice Dupont.

The play went over successfully each night, and Flukey was seen at the ticket office grinning from ear to ear, which was a clear indication that the financial side of things were all right too.

December 19, 1947

Dear Diary,

A "Preview of Christmas" was the theme of our Senior Formal, and the gym was decorated with wreaths and silver stars and bells hanging from the ceiling.

Everyone was excited because the highlight of the evening was to be the crowning of the Yuletide Queen, Norma Guertin. We were the first class to ever elect a Yuletide Queen, and you can bet that other classes will take up the novel idea.

The queen's attendants were none other than peppy Lois Gagnon and petite Sheila Nicholson.

March 12, 1948

Dear Diary,

Six additional members were elected to the National Honor Society. Those who were chosen on basis of scholarship and character were Norman Gileau, Bertha Kamuda, Franny Nap, Paul Parent, Joan Perreault and Robert Ross.

March 19, 1948

Dear Diary,

The 23rd Annual Speaking Contest was won by Franny Stevens for his "Beyond the Last Mile" by Gordon Morris. We shall remember the big smile he gave when he was presented the prize, and which was caught by some photographer and put in the Killonian.

April 26, 1948

Dear Diary,

What a hectic week this is. All yearbook assignments are due, and everyone is trying to do his homework with one hand and the extra work with the other. Everyone is running around madly, and the typing room is filled with seniors every period.

The class is making plans for Senior Informal which is to be held May 7, 1948. Everyone is planning to go and have one more gala time together before Class Week swings around.

The last week will be a merry, and in some ways, a sad week for us seniors. We'll be on the run with Baccalaureate, Alumni Supper, Class Day, Graduation, Senior Reception, and the Class Trip—all at once.

Soon it will be all over, and just pleasant memories of K. H. S. will be left to the class of '48, but we're confident that down through the years, students and faculty will agree that there was never another class like that of 1948!

FRANCES NAP

- Class Will -

We, the Class of 1948, of Killingly High School, in the town of Danielson, in the county of Windham, in the State of Connecticut, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our last WILL AND TESTAMENT, hereby revoking all former wills and codicils by us at any time heretofore made.

So that our successors may profit by our gains we bequeath all the knowledge and success we have acquired as a class and as individuals be they so little. All the joys and glorious events we have witnessed we bestow upon them and our deepest appreciation for such a joyful and complete high school life.

To Mr. Brine, our zealous class advisor, we leave our gratitude for his endless patience and untiring efforts--which we hope have not been in vain. To him we leave also an ideal play cast, a large bottle of Wildroot Cream Oil, and last but not least a moment of peace and quiet.

Lois Gagnon leaves her extensive wardrobe to Barbara Bassett.

Sylvio Gauthier leaves his political activities to his deserving brother Norman.

The ability to hold up her end of the conversation goes from Pat Gilbert to Ann Garcin.

Norman Gingras bestows upon William Murray the ability to be quiet at all times.

Bertha Kamuda wills her natural curls to the two Faford sisters, Connie and Theresa.

The ability to make oneself heard is left to Leo Barbeau by Jimmy Kent.

The title of man-hater is willed to Mildred Schap by Helen Korpita.

Steve Kuszaj leaves his position in the football line-up to Killingly's future star athlete Michael Ben.

Bob Labossiere leaves his rugged physique to anyone who is capable of fitting into his famed football uniform No. 25.

Connie LaBrec leaves her lack of speed to Hugh Chapman.

Lorraine Laprade bestows upon Betty Hoss the knack of hair styling.

Lorraine LeBlanc leaves her quiet disposition to Doris Oldham.

Louis LeBlanc leaves his French accent to Solange Ferron.

Agnes Mathieu's "life-of-the-party" personality is bequeathed to Barbara Gendreau.

Earl LeClair leaves his Esquire finish to Russell Clark.

From Billy Mignault to Arthur Sarantopoulos goes the title of best all-around.

Norman LeClair leaves his interpretations of Vaughn Monroe to Fred Sypek.

Tony Minio leaves trumpet-playing to Al Giguere.

Philip Bard leaves his genius in math to Robert Traut.

THE WALKING MAN

- Class Prophecy -

Time: 10 years hence, 1958.
Place: Take-A-Chance Airport, Danielson, Connecticut
Setting: Fay Demoranville and Norman Gileau are awaiting the arrival of the airliner which will take them to London.

Fay: Well, I've got the papers. We'd better hurry and board the plane before they leave without us.

Norman: Let's go.

Fay: Here's a couple of seats. Let's sit down before that mad pilot takes off without notice.

Norman: Say! Isn't that Norma Guertin coming out of the pilot's cabin?

Norma: Fasten your safety belts, please. Well! If it isn't Norman Gileau and Fay Demoranville!

Fay: Well, hello! Since when have you been an airline hostess?

Norma Well, when Bob Vett and George Sherwood incorporated the Take-A-Chance Airlines- - - - -

Fay: Do you mean to say that Bob and George own this airline?

Norma: Why yes. In fact, Bob and George are piloting this plane.

Norman: What! I'm getting off!

Norma: Oh, don't worry. They've made two successful trips this week. What are you going to London for?

Fay: Well, from London, I'm going to Holland to study cross-pollination of tulips.

Norma: And you, Norman?

Norman: I'm going to an International Conference for pigeontoe specialists.

Fay: If you have a few minutes to spare, Norma, I've got a Transcript, and I noticed that our classmates are making the headlines.

Norma: Mmm, should be interesting.

Norman: Listen to this! "Paul Parent and Philip Bard, well-known scientists and inventors, have been working for the past ten years to answer the question, 'Why do rabbits eat carrots?' Their brilliant deduction is—they're hungry."

Fay: Here's an educational item. "Professor Robert Ross, Dean of Work'em Hard College, has just published his revolutionary 'All the Words and Heaven Too' dictionary."

Norman: "Joseph Weaver has been promoted to vice president of the Cream-on-the-Bottom Milk Company." He's doing all right for himself, isn't he?

Norma: Flash! "Gregory Zanglis, multi-millionaire owner of the best-known and largest taxi business in the U. S., has just completed his book, How to Make a Million Dollars in the Taxi Business. He is being pursued daily by publishers. As yet, he hasn't decided which company he'll honor."

Norman: Golly, he did all right with his taxi business after all!

Fay: Here's what I'm interested in. Gertrude Pester's column on movie society.

Norma: Who would have thought Trudy would become a famous columnist? She certainly does a wonderful job of it.

Norman: Hmmmnn. "Pat Gilbert, the famous Power's model has just received an offer from the Glamour Girl Motion Picture Corporation. From all reports, Miss Gilbert should be a top star before long."

Fay: Look at this! "Agnes Mathieu and Mildred Zagraniczny are co-starring in Earl LeClair's new production, Cheers for the Roving Ramblers. The two young cheerleaders are under contract with the Roving Ramblers, now. This movie, the first of its kind, was a huge success when previewed in Hollyforest." I don't want to miss that!

Norman: Louis LeBlanc is head usher now, at the "See-it-All" movie theater. If his progress continues, as is expected, he will be the top usher of the world.

Norma: Connie LaBrec really is in demand these days. It seems that her expert method of prompting brings glorious results. She's been engaged for a new Broadway production, I heard.

Fay: This really is interesting! "Lorraine Trahan has just finished a movie entitled The Art of Majoretting. A movie of this kind has been in demand for quite some time now. It should prove to be top box-office material."

Norma: "Two noted artists, Valerie Briere and Bertha Kamuda, gave an exhibition of their unusual paintings. From the critics' reports, it was the best exhibition of its kind ever put on in New York."

Norman: "It was announced by the hospital board last night that Miss Odena Boiselle will be the supervisor of the nursing department at the hospital for cold feet. Miss Madeline Aubin will be her assistant."

Norma: "The secret of Fred Wood's immense egg production was finally discovered. Mr. Wood was found on his chicken range singing, and very well indeed, 'Now is The Hour'."

Fay: "Tony Minio and his star pianist Fred Peabody are making headlines in the music world. Tony and his famous orchestra have made their twentieth appearance of a world- wide tour. They will play in Carnegie Hall next week. The world is keeping its eyes on Tony, his trumpet, his pianist, and his orchestra."

Norman: Say, look at this. "The Brooklyn Savings Bank reported a heavy loss last month, and no trace of the money has been found. The police are still investigating. Robert Winchell and Norman LeClair are keeping the books at the bank."

Norma: Here's one for laughs! Alyce Cooke is now sole owner and star of "The Beulah Show."

Fay: Get this. "Pat Bertorelli is offering a course at Killingly Low School called 'Advantages of the Word Ain't.' Margaret Wilson, also a teacher at Killingly Low School, has just finished a very successful course in Dumb-boozled Geometry."

Norman: "Crannie Briggs is now commander of the Navy Jazz Band. The music is heavenly. James Kent is working wonders as commander of the Seventeenth Canoe Fleet."

Norma: Here's something good. "Need a new Kaiser? Listen. The latest models in jet-propelled, streamlined Kaisers are now on sale at Sylvio 'Gyp 'Em' Gauthier's Auto Department. Unreasonable prices offered. Call Lincoln Downs, 1780."

Fay: Right under it, it says, "For the proper equipment for your new jet-propelled Kaisers, come to Kenny Byrnes' Filling Station. Gas is also available for those unfortunate enough to own common Cadillacs."

Norma: This takes the cake!. "Have you had an accident? Did your jet-propelled Kaiser meet with unforeseen circumstances? Don't worry! Just call Andy Colvin's "Pick 'Em Up" Wreckage Concern. Best Service available."

Fay: "School for morons and imbeciles opens September 1, 1948, under management of Marjorie Hill. A large group is expected."

Norman: "Wanted: A posse to chase B. T. O. Mickey Evans. Last seen headed for Mars at 539 miles a minute. Call Northside 777, and ask for Sheriff Ken Poirier."

Norma: "Bob Poirier now specializes in hair cuts for bald men. Mr. Brine is a frequent customer."

Fay: Listen to what's become of Betty. "Betty Lee Brundage has become the head medical secretary for Dr. Paul Berthiaume at the "Kill 'Em For Sure" hospital."

Norman: Ah! At last the sports page! Did you know that Francis Stevens is now assistant bat boy for the Boston Red Sox? He's really hitting the top in the big leagues.

Fay: Here's a picture of the Roving Ramblers, the National Football Champions. They are now under the management of David Dyson and Bill Migneault. Bob Labossiere, Hardie Burgin, and Paul Sears are all first stringers on the rambunctious Ramblers. They haven't lost any games this season.

Norma: That's nothing. Edgar Provost has just won the World Champion "No-Weight-At-All" boxing title. See, here's his picture.

Fay: Feature attraction! "In last Sunday's game between the Cardinals and the Dodgers, Steve Kuszaj and Jimmy Flood were the stars for the Dodgers."

Norman: Here's one we missed. "Maurice DuPont, assistant manager of the mouse trap department at Benny's, has reported that there were 22.0798 per cent more mousetraps sold this year than last year."

Fay: Well, I guess this covers the paper.

Norma: Gosh, it was interesting to hear what all of our classmates are doing. By the way, where are all the girls and boys who took the commercial course?

Fay: Just where you'd expect. A Secretarial Convention is being held in Timbuctoo next week, and Frances Nap is chairman, Frances, you know, is now a private secretary to a prominent New York lawyer. Helen Korpita, Betty Finley, Lois Gagnon, Lorraine LeBlanc, Theresa Milliard, and Lavonnie White, who are all making a cool $75 per, are planning to go. They should have a wonderful time.

Norman: Rene Hebert and Joan Perreault are working in the "Don't Trust Us" Bank, now. Rene, you know, is president, and Joan is his very efficient secretary. Joan always said she wanted to be a millionaire's secretary!

Norma: Say, what about Eleanor Smith?

Fay: Oh, you remember how she used to love butterflies, don't you? She's in Africa, adding to her beautiful collection.

Norma: If you have time, be sure to go to Mam'selle's on Fog Street. Harriett Bowen has put in a new window display which is really something to marvel at.

Norman: Did you know that Jack Engblom and Rudy Rzeznikiewicz are co-editors of the "Country Hick Magazine?" They're selling millions of copies.

Fay: Yes, and David Rawson is building a ten-story pentagon buildingin Danielson. It's a welcome addition to this great city.

Norma: Really! How nice. Oh, I saw Virginia Neal's all-girl basketball team last month in Chicago. What a team that girl has got!

Norman: Norman Gingras and Eugene Perreault have just opened the "We Gyp 'Em Plenty Department Store" in Danielson. They specialize in men's clothing and they are expected to do very handsomely.

Fay: Myrna Cole, Lorraine Laprade, and Lorraine Bouthillier are married to millionaires, and are touring the world. Sheila "Hit-or-Miss" Nicholson is their chauffeur.

Norman: Fred Dziki is President of the National Baseball league, with headquarters in Danielson. His supervision has brought amazing results. All games lost.

Norma: There goes the red light, we're landing.

Fay: Are we in London already?

Norman: Looks like it! It sure is foggy.

Norma: Goodbye folks. It was swell being with you. Sorry it was for such a short time.

Norman and Fay: Goodbye.

Norman: Say, by the way, I've got a couple of tickets for the concert tonight. Norman Beaudreau, concert pianist, is giving his first performance. Would you like to go?

Fay: I'd love to. You can pick me up at the Bitgood-Maurice Astoria at eight. Good-bye now.

Norman: See you tonight.

The Killingly Athletic Association was formed to manage all sports at Killingly High School. The K. A. A. Council also provided the equipment for these activities.

At the first meeting of the K. A. A. Council, the representatives discussed plans for the K. A. A. drive and party. The drive was held to get as many students as possible to join the K. A. A. before the first football game was played. The senior class was the first to arrive at the hundred per cent goal.

Officers for the year were as follows: President, William Migneault; Vice President, William Hoss; Secretary, Lillian Rumrill; Treasurer, Joseph Weaver.

Student Council

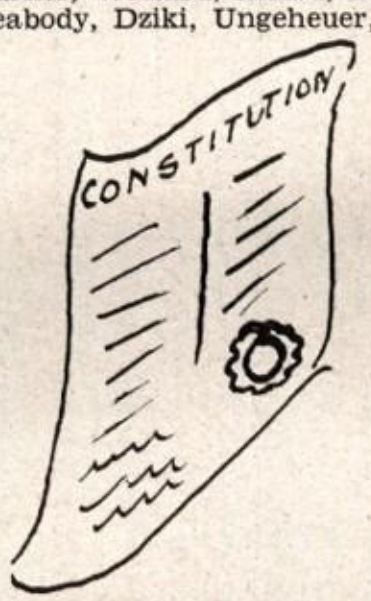
Second Row: Cooke, Everett, Turner, Woisard, Allard, Landry, Hoss, LeClair.
Third Row: Tennett, Young, Peabody, Dziki, Ungeheuer, King, St. George.



The outstanding achievement of the Student Council this year was the revision of the K. H. S. Handbook which will be available for the Freshman class entering in September 1948. The Student Council also decided that a variety show presented by the combined classes of the school would be presented instead of each class presenting its own show as in previous years.

The delegates from Killingly High School to the fall meeting of the Eastern Federation of Student Councils at East Hartford were Theresa Milliard and Theresa LeClair. The general theme of the day was: "The American Dream". Fred Peabody, a local council member, served as Vice-President of the Eastern Federation Of Student Councils during the 1947-48 term.

The following served as officers for the 1947-48 term: President, William Migneault; Vice-President. William Hoss; Secretary & Treasurer, Mary Chase; Faculty Advisor, Miss Gertrude Pradel.

The Traffic Squad is the law-enforcing body of Killingly High School. It is made up of competent members of every class, who are assigned to definite posts or beats.

The members of this squad are on duty before and after each period. Believing that silence is golden, they struggled with their job of keeping the pupils quiet between periods, and helped avoid serious accidents that could occur from pushing and fooling.

At regular meetings, offenders are brought before the squad and punished as the members see fit.

In 1947-48 Norman Gileau was captain, and Theresa Milliard was Sergeant. There were three executives also: Hardie Burgin, Fred Peabody and Theresa LeClair.

One of the most popular of the new features was a column written by Robert Ross. The column, "Batting the Breeze with Rosco," was a collection of jokes, facts and stories, written as only Ross could write them.

For sportsminded people, "Under the Showers", an original column by the boys' sports editors, Tom O'Brien and Herb Elliot, was added. This column gave the readers a look behind the sports scene of K. H. S.

One feature that created a great deal of interest was "Personality Parade". This feature by Margaret Wilson brought new school personalities into the limelight each month.

The Killonian was under the editorship of Francis Stevens and the Extra was edited by Patricia Bertorelli.

Miss Margaret Early and Mr. George E. Cooke served as faculty advisors.

Responsible for the townspeople's review of K. H. S. doings is the Journalism Club. The club held meetings in the sewing room every Monday during the Activity period. The club gathered the news and activities of Killingly High School and wrote them up for its column, K. H. S. Notes, which appeared in the Windham County Transcript every week.

Under the guidance of their advisor, Miss Dorothy E. Bake, the club had a very active year.

The Club made two educational visits; one to the Brooklyn Jail, the other to the Hillshire Farms. The orchestra has been playing popular music as well as classical music this year, and its new repertoire has created increased interest among the members. Two favorite selections are: "Now is the Hour" and "Bumble Boogie."

Under the guidance of Miss Barbara Edgett, the cheerleaders cheered to the top of their ability, and introduced some bright new cheers.

Activities

Senior Play

The Senior class presented "Dear Ruth" on November 20 and 21. The play centered around "Miriam", a sixteen-year old girl who sent love letters to a soldier overseas and signed her elder sister's name to them. After many hilarious experiences, "Ruth" married the soldier boy and left poor "Albert" holding the bag.

The cast included: Dora: Patricia Bertorelli—Alyce Cooke; Mrs. Edith Wilkins: Fay Demoranville—Margaret Wilson; Miriam Wilkins: Joan Perreault—Theresa Milliard; Judge Harry Wilkins: Norman Gileau; Ruth Wilkins: Gertrude Pester—Marjorie Hill; Lt. Agatha, her sister, thinks Adolf, their cousin, can do no wrong, but when Rita Norris, Adolf's secretary, is accused of stealing $5,000, Letty just knows Rita is innocent. From one exciting moment to the next, the play laughs at shoplifting, psychiatrists, outlandish hats, inhibited spinsters and uninhibited cooks.

The Junior Class presented the Sadie Hawkins Delight Dance on October 24. Music was by Bob Wilbur's orchestra.

The gym walls were decorated with life-sized figures from the 'Lil Abner comic strip.

Committee chairmen were: General chairman, Morton Blumenthal; Decoration chairman, Sheila Gilbert; Orchestra chairman, William Hoss; Ticket chairman, Marjorie Keech; Refreshment chairman, Bernice Beeney; Advertising chairman, Stasia Atsales; Chaperone chairman, Betty Brunell.

Sophomore Dance

The Sophomore Class held their annual dance on April second. The dance was called "April Showers", and was decorated appropriately. The committee chairmen were: General chairman, Richard Ungeheuer; Decoration chairman, Thomas Thornley; Ticket chairman, Harvey Nosenchuk; Orchestra chairman, Rosemarie Lewis; Invitation chairman, Lillian Rumrill; Advertising chairman, Norman Orrell; Refreshment chairman, Marlene Quintal; Clean-up chairman, Richard Ungeheuer.

Music was provided by Phil Lewis and his orchestra.

Roman Banquet

The initiation of the Latin I Class which took place in October was much fun for the Latin II Class students and the Latin I Class who struggled through. Meetings were held every other Tuesday with dues of fifteen cents per meeting. At these meetings the Club played Roman games, discussed Roman customs, made plans for social events and had an altogether entertaining and educational time. The Club held several roller-skating parties and a scavenger hunt and a dance.

The Club also sold Christmas Cards to raise money for a Roman Banquet which was the main project for the year. William Landry and Grace Hall were co-chairmen of this Banquet. Under their guidance the various committees worked hard on costumes, customs, decorations, and food of the Roman people in order to reproduce a realistic Roman Banquet.

President, Michael Ben; Vice-president, Lillian Rumrill; Secretary, Grace Hall; Treasurer, Harvey Nosenchuk.

Preview of Christmas

The Senior class presented their Hop on December 19. The music was by Bob Wilbur and his orchestra.

The gym was appropriately decorated in green, red and white. Huge sprays of green, spattered with white and with red bows hung on the walls. A Christmas tree was in the corner and was gaily decorated. The false ceiling, with stars hanging from it was pretty. The Seniors chose Norma Guertin Queen of the Yuletide, and her attendants were Sheila Nicholson and Lois Gagnon. She was crowned under an arbor of lights and Christmas greens.

The committee chairmen were: General Chairman, Fred Dziki; Decorations, Fay Demoranville; Advertising, Valerie Briere; Invitations, Theresa Milliard; Refreshments, Lois Gagnon; Orchestra, Joan Perreault; Clean-up, Sylvio Gauthier.

Scholarship Concert

The Mixed Chorus and the Community Band, under the supervision of Arthur E. Willey, supervisor of music, joined together to present a concert on April 9 in the auditorium. The concert was for the purpose of establishing a new music scholarship in Killingly High School to be given to any deserving senior whose talents lie in the field of music.

Speaking Contest

The twenty-third annual Speaking Contest was held on March 19 in the auditorium. There were eight contestants. They were: "At the Declam Contest", Fay Demoranville; "The Highwayman", Harvey Nosenchuk; "The Devil and Daniel Webster", Grace Ann Hays; "The Three Wishes", Anne Garcin; "My First Date", Jane Morrison; "Mary White", Nancy Tennett; "By Courier", Hugh French; "Beyond the Last Mile", Francis Stevens.

The judges for the contest were Frank Atwood, Ralph Osborne, and Jerome J. Ryscavage.

The winners were Francis Stevens, first place; Grace Ann Hays, second place; Jane Morrison, third place; and Anne Garcin, honorable mention.

Girls' Sports Club Dance

The Girls' Sports Club presented their annual dance, "SS Merrytime Dance", on April 21. Bob Wilbur's orchestra provided the music. The gym was decorated with waves, ropes, and other sea and ship decorations.

The chairmen for the occasion were: Refreshment chairman, Jeanne Demoranville; Invitation chairman, Lois Gagnon; Clean-up, Cynara Taylor; Poster chairman, Stasia Atsales; Orchestra chairman, Gloria Viesti; Ticket chairman, Helen Atsales; Decoration chairman, Madeline Aubin.

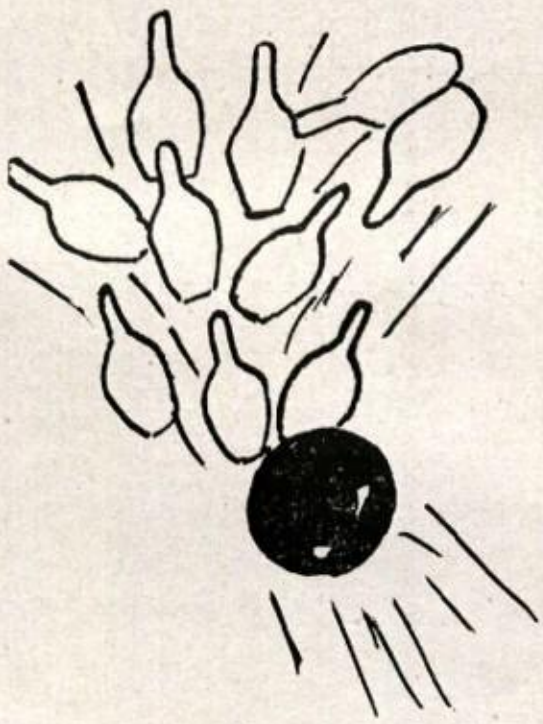
Highlights of a very successful year for the Girls' Sports Club were the play-days, the April dance, and the basketball tournament won by the Junior Vampires.

The sports season has been prolonged, enabling many girls to earn their letters and numerals.



For the first time in many years, play-days were begun again. The Killingly girls participated in two, playing host at the first one, a volleyball tournament. The second, a basketball tournament, was held in Griswold. Killingly girls took second place on both occasions.

Bowling was continued throughout the year at the Liberty Alleys, and plans were made to have horseback riding at the stables in Pomfret.

Officers for the year were as follows: President, Madeline Aubin; Vice-president, Solange Ferron; Secretary, Mary Chase; Treasurer, Jean Demoranville; Recorder, Marjorie Hill.

Football practice started in the stifling August heat and ended in November's below freezing temperatures. But this year's squad did not mind mere variations of the weather. Despite wind, rain, and mud they fought through to a Class C Football Championship.

The Putnam defeat was disappointing but the team had already annexed a record-breaking string of 8 consecutive victories.

Coach Panciera was assisted by Mr. A. E. Nichols in coaching the team to championship material.

The team got off to a slow start this season by dropping the first two games but once started they piled up a string of seven consecutive victories and qualified for the tourney play at New Haven. In the tournament Lyman Hall (who are now Class M champs) won by two points to eliminate Killingly.

The starting line-up usually consisted of Mignault, Moe, Hoss, Dziki, and O'Brien with Weaver and Panteleakos substituting frequently. The highest personal score was rung up by Panteleakos, who made 27 ponts in the third game of the season. Co-captain Mignault had the highest scoring total for the season with 212 points. Co-captain Hoss with 172 was second, and Moe and O'Brien tied for third with 120 points apiece.

Mr. Theodore Ventura, original sponsor of the Varsity Club, resigned in January and turned over his advisory position to Mr. Herbert J. Brine.

In March the annual St. Patrick's Day Dance was held in the gym and was enjoyed by the large number who attended.

...ek NBA Championship as Season Opens remaining charter members, won their first championship in the 1969-70 campaign, but were dethroned last season by the Milwaukee Bucks.

New York still has the lineup that took it to the title, with Willis Reed at center, Dave DeBusschere and Bill Bradley at forwards, and Walt Frazier and Dick Barnett at guards.

But Lucas, one of the league's all-time leading scorers and rebounders who was acquired in a trade with San Francisco, and the lightning-quick Meminger, the club's No. 1 draft choice from Marquette, give the Knicks tremendous maneuverability.

Detroit got off to a roaring start last season, winning its first nine games before losing to the Knicks. Then the Pistons played .500 ball the rest of the season and wound up in last place in the Midwest Division despite an over-all record of 45-37.

Still, it was the Pistons' first winning season since 1957. Dave Bing and Jimmy Walker, high-scoring guards, and massive 6-foot-11 center Bob Lanier, the nucleus of that team, all are back.

In addition to the Detroit-New York game, there will be three other openers Tuesday night, Atlanta at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at Chicago and Seattle at Buffalo.

Milwaukee begins defense of its crown Thursday night at Phoenix. The rest of the NBA teams will be in action before the end of the week.

The American Basketball Association begins its fifth season Wednesday night with one game—Denver at defending champion Utah.

The Seattle-Buffalo contest matches two of the NBA's most improved teams. Seattle will be helped by Spencer Haywood, former Olympic and ABA star, starting his first full season, and center Bob Rule, sidelined virtually all of last season because of surgery on his Achilles tendon.

Buffalo, in its second season in the league, should be aided by 7-1 Elmore Smith, its top draft choice, and veteran guard Walt Hazzard, obtained in a deal with Atlanta.

Atlanta will be playing without its standout rookie of last season, Pistol Pete Maravich.

"He just gets better every game," Coach John Mazur said in praising Plunkett, who completed 12 passes while New York managed to hit on only four.

"I was a little discouraged after we lost to Baltimore last week, but I could see things, the linebackers and defensive backs, better against the Jets," Plunkett said. "However, these were by far the worst conditions I've ever played in. Even taking the snap was tough. The ball kept sliding up my forearm and I even had to baby my pas-

Probably the key factor in Sunday's victory was the play of goalie Ed Giacomin, who shared in the Vezina Trophy last season as the league's top goaltender. Giacomin had 18 saves in the first period against the Bruins.

"He made a couple of great saves there," Francis said. "I don't know how the hell he made them. Then we got that first goal that got us off and running."

The goal that started the Rangers on their way was scored by Rod Gilbert
